WIZARDS IDENTITY

After 36 seasons of professional basketball, Washington's NBA franchise introduced new logos and colors to accommodate the change of the team's nickname, as the team tipped off the 1997-98 season as the Washington Wizards. The new Wizards logos, created by the National Basketball Association, in collaboration with Nike, contain three vibrant colors: blue, black and bronze. The color blend represents the explosive energy that the basketball club brings to life and is synonymous with the colors that are prevalent in the logos of the Washington Mystics, Abe Pollin's other professional franchise.

"We wanted the NBA to design something sleek and progressive, showing action while giving the logo a classic look," said Chairman of Washington Sports and Entertainment Abe Pollin. "We feel this logo does all of these things and we are very proud of our new look."

The team's primary logo features a wizard leaping outstretched past the moon while holding a "burst of magic" in his right hand and spinning a basketball in his left hand. The Wizard, with a "W" emblazoned on his chest, is classic and precise. The "burst of magic" symbolizes the strength of the franchise and the spinning of the ball represents the team's talent. The moon takes on the appearance of a basketball and stands for the heights to which the franchise hopes to rise.

The secondary logo uses a modern, aggressive font to create the letters "dc." It places emphasis on the team's new home, at MCI Center, in the nation's capital. The Wizards wordmarks further illustrate the aura of energy and power with their bold, custom font. Through a licensing agreement with the NBA, Nike has obtained the right to produce authentic uniforms and courtside apparel for the Wizards, while Champion will create replica jerseys for the Wizards. All Wizards merchandise is available at Modell's Sporting Goods, the Wizards apparel headquarters, and through Aramark at 1-202-628-3200, ext. 6716.

The name change marks the third time in franchise history that the team has altered its nickname. After being created as the Chicago Packers in 1961, the club became the Chicago Zephyrs a year later. In 1963, Abe Pollin headed a group of investors which purchased the organization, moved the team to Baltimore and named the club the Baltimore Bullets.

The name depicts energy and an omnipresent power and brings to light the wise and magical nature of the team. It serves as a positive image for both the players and the organization.

"As I have said many times before, this was not an easy decision for me," added Pollin. "The Bullets have been a part of me for many years. But I no longer wanted my team associated with anything with a violent connotation. That's why we changed the name. "

Pollin announced his intentions to re-name his basketball club on November 9, 1995, as part of an anti-violence movement. Through promotional partners Boston Market and NBC4, fans were able to vote on their favorite new nickname, and on February 22, 1996, Pollin announced that Wizards would be the club's new moniker. In addition to the new name, logos and colors, the team established a conflict resolution program with a focus on peer mediation and conflict resolution among high-risk teens in the Washington and Baltimore metropolitan areas.

ADMINISTRATION

ABE POLLIN

Abe and Irene Pollin enter their 39th year of National Basketball Association ownership in 2003-04 as the longest tenured owners in the NBA. Since becoming owners in 1964, the Pollins have watched the NBA become the standard by which all other professional sports leagues are measured, exploding in growth from a small, regional league to a worldwide presence on the business landscape.

In their distinguished career, Abe and Irene Pollin have been at the center of every major issue in the NBA during their time at the helm of the Washington Bullets/Wizards. In 1978, they reached the pinnacle of the NBA as their Bullets, behind the play of Wes Unseld, Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge, defeated Seattle and brought a World Championship to Washington.

As the majority owners of Washington Sports & Entertainment Limited Partnership, Abe and Irene Pollin oversee the operations of the Washington Wizards, Washington Mystics, TicketMaster Washington/Baltimore and the management of MCI Center, and the George Mason University Patriot Center.

Twenty-nine years ago, the Pollins opened the Capital Centre in Landover, Maryland, the new home for their Baltimore Bullets, and applied for a National Hockey League expansion franchise. The Capital Centre opened on December 2, 1973, and it was what MCI Center is today - a state-of-the-art sports and entertainment facility that became the standard for new arenas throughout the world.

The Capital Centre, aptly named by Irene Pollin, was built in a record 15 months and boasted a host of unique features including electronic ticketing, one-of-a-kind luxury suite accommodations and the never-seen-before Telescreen. It was the premier arena in its time, hosting a wide range of events from sporting events to concerts and even presidential galas.

But as time and the sports and entertainment industry changed, the Pollins realized that their teams were no longer playing in the "best" facility in their respective leagues. In 1964, when the Pollins and two partners purchased the Baltimore Bullets, they had dreams that someday the team would play in a brand-new facility in the Nation's Capital. Now they had another opportunity to make their dreams reality.

After the long years of planning and then building MCI Center, the Pollins watched as their dreams came true on December 2, 1997, when a sellout crowd filled MCI Center to watch the Wizards host the arena's first event. Since that time, over 13 million people have spun the turnstiles at MCI Center to be a part of over 1,140 concerts and sporting events, and the downtown area has sprung to life.

"I had two goals when I decided to build this building," said Abe Pollin. "The first was that if I was building in downtown Washington, the nation's capital, it had to be the best building of its kind in the country. The second was to be the catalyst that turned the city around."

As the Wizards completed their first season at MCI Center, the Pollins' WNBA franchise, the Washington Mystics, were making history of their own. The Mystics made their MCI Center debut on June 19, 1998, against the Utah Starzz in front of 20,674 fans -- the largest crowd ever to attend a women's professional basketball game in the United States.

The sports industry is full of astute business professionals, but what distinguishes Abe and Irene Pollin from their peers is their commitment to social responsibility. They share a passionate need to give back to the community and have made helping people a way of life. Their philanthropic and humanitarian endeavors know no bias or boundaries, which is evident by the numerous public service and community organizations to which they selflessly devote enormous time and energy.

Abe Pollin serves as the Chairman of the Advisory Council, is Honorable Chairman of the Salvation Army's Leadership Committee for Centers of Hope and Co-Chair of the Community Capital Campaign for N Street Village in the District. He is also the co-sponsor of the "I Have a Dream Foundation" and personally guaranteed a college education for 55 students.

"I grew up in a house where both my parents were very much involved in helping others," said Pollin. "My philosophy is that those of us who are on the giving end rather than the receiving end are very lucky."

Not surprisingly, recognition of the Pollins' record and accomplishments are just as impressive as the deeds they acknowledge. The last two years have been landmark ones for Pollin, as he has received numerous awards and accolades recognizing his accomplishments in professional sports and contributions to community service. Recently, Pollin has been the recipient of the Distinguished Civilian Service Award, presented by the US Army, the 1996 Robert F. Kennedy-Martin Luther King, Jr. Award, presented by Coalition to Stop Gun Violence, the 1996 United Cerebral Palsy Achievement Award and the 1997 Jewish Leadership Award.

As if the years of experience with the Bullets/Wizards, Capital Centre and MCI Center were not challenging enough, Irene Pollin is a noted health care professional with over 28 years of experience in the field. In 1976, she created the first Medical Crisis Counseling Center developed to treat patients and families coping with chronic illness. Since then she has developed Medical Crisis Counseling Centers at Washington Hospital Center as well as additional facilities in surrounding communities.

In addition, Irene Pollin has also forged a dynamic reputation as a psychiatric social worker and lecturer in the department of psychiatry at Harvard University. As president and founder of the Linda and Kenneth Pollin Foundation, she serves on a number of national advisory boards and commissions in the field of mental health and women's health, and is the founder and chairperson of the Sister to Sister - Everyone Has a Heart Foundation, an organization whose aim is to increase women's awareness of heart disease and provide free cardiac screenings

In addition to lecturing in the academic community, Mrs. Pollin has been a guest on national and local broadcast shows including The Today Show, Nightline with Ted Koppel, Good Day New York, National Public Radio and USA Today Sports Radio. She also has published numerous articles and is the author of two books, Medical Crisis Counseling – Short-Term Therapy for Long-Term Illness and Taking Charge – Overcoming the Challenges of Long-Term Illness.

She has served as a board member of numerous organizations such as the American Cancer Society, Smithsonian Institution, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, National Kidney Foundation, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Society for Women's Health Research, National Cancer Institute, National Rehabilitation Hospital, the National Institute of Mental Health, the U.S. Committee for the Washington, D.C. United Nations Fund for Women, the National Institutes for Health Foundation and the Office of Women's Health at NIH. Outside of the health field, Mrs. Pollin has served on the board for the National Symphony Orchestra and the Washington Opera. In addition, she has given back to her alma mater, serving on the Board of American University for 11 years, the American University Executive Committee and the Development Committee at AU and was the guiding force behind the development of the new AU Library.

Abe Pollin moved with his family to the Washington area from Philadelphia when he was eight. He graduated from The George Washington University in 1945 and went to work for his family's construction company for 12 years. Irene Pollin, a native of St. Louis, received a Bachelor's Degree from American University, and then earned a Master's Degree in Social Work from Catholic University. In 1957, the Pollins launched their own construction company and, as a local contractor, built several large apartment houses and office buildings, one of which featured the first-ever rooftop pool in Washington.

Most recently, Abe and Irene Pollin together established the Pollin Prize for Pediatric Research, administered by New York Presbyterian Hospital. The first Pollin Prize was awarded November 15, 2002 to four international scientists for their work in Oral Rehydration Therapy, hailed as the most important medical discovery of the 20th century.

The Pollins live in Bethesda, Maryland. They are avid travelers and enjoy spending time with their children and grandchildren. Their oldest son, Robert, lives in Amherst, MA with his wife Sigrid, where they are both professors at the University of Massachusetts. Robert, an economics professor, and Sigrid, an architect, have two daughters, Emma and Hannah. The Pollins' younger son, James, owns Leviathan Meeting Innovations in Landover, MD.

SUSAN O'MALLEY

If there is any way to personify success through perseverance then Susan O'Malley is a model example. Named President of Washington Sports and Entertainment on May 9, 1991, O'Malley became the first female president of an NBA franchise as well as president of a multi-faceted sports and entertainment company, Washington Sports and Entertainment.

A respected leader and motivator, O'Malley has risen through the ranks to the top of Washington Sports and Entertainment. Once an intern with the Bullets and Capitals, O'Malley joined the organization full-time in 1986 as Director of Advertising. Since that time, her ground breaking business ideas and proactive approach to customer service has brought her, and Washington Sports and Entertainment, to the top of the sports business world.

After being named President in 1991, O'Malley took an organization ranked last to its counterparts in close to every category, and initiated policies and procedures that have formed positive relationships with ticket holders, corporate sponsors, and the media.

In her first season handling off-court activities, the team experienced the largest ticket revenue in the history of an NBA franchise. In addition, that year, the club achieved the highest renewal rate of season tickets ever by the franchise, including the year following the 1977-78 Championship season.

As President, O'Malley oversees all business operations for the Washington Wizards and Mystics. In addition, she is responsible for overseeing operations in the Abe Pollin owned MCI Center, Entertainment and New Business Development, Finance, Human Resources/Payroll Services, Marketing, Team Operations, and TicketMaster.

"I have been lucky to be able to continue to add responsibility," said O'Malley. "It's a measurable job. You always have to ask yourself, 'are there people in the stands? Are there a certain number of concerts in the building?' When the owner pays his own way, then filling the building is the challenge. My challenge is to continue to look for, and find, content for this building."

O'Malley's magic has helped attract over 13 million patrons through the turnstiles of the Washington, D.C.-based facility through the summer of 2003 to witness professional basketball at its finest as well as spectacular events and concerts. In the five and a half year history of MCI Center, the arena has been host to more then 1,140 concerts and sporting events. In 2002, MCI Center finished the year with the most events in the history of the building with 228.

From a young age, O'Malley always knew her path in life. As a grade school student, she wrote a paper declaring her goal was to run a sports franchise. Her teacher deemed the goal "unrealistic," but O'Malley was not swayed. After graduating in 1983 with a Bachelor of Science degree in business and finance from Mt. St. Mary's College, O'Malley worked for the Earle Palmer Brown Advertising firm for three years before joining the Bullets in 1986, and worked for two seasons in the advertising department before being promoted to Executive Vice President and took control of the business operations of the franchise.

A skilled motivator, O'Malley created a spirited, results-oriented work environment that has been emulated in professional sports. While she demands hard work and determination from her staff, she has been rewarded with loyalty - her core management team, assembled by O'Malley when she assumed control of Washington Sports, remains intact 17-years later. Her motivational methods are much sought-after, as she has become an often-requested speaker for civic, academic, and corporate groups.

"I think motivation and drive always comes from within," said O'Malley. "There are people that I greatly admire and respect. [Former chairman of the Washington Post] Katherine Graham was one of my great heroes. People like that inspire me. Thomas Jefferson is a great inspiration to me because of the fact that at 74 years old he is building the University of Virginia. People who keep trying to move forward, that's important to me, that's what inspires me."

For the second consecutive year, O'Malley taught a Sports Business Marketing class at the Georgetown University Business School. Sharing her invaluable experience with the senior students, O'Malley lectured on what she knows best, how to run a successful sports franchise. Along with guest celebrities and seasoned veterans, Georgetown students were exposed to a first hand experience in sports business without ever leaving the classroom. After two seasons, he was named vice president and general manager on July 21, 1993. Grunfeld was promoted to president and general manager of the Knicks on February 23, 1996.

Originally drafted by Milwaukee with the 11th overall selection in the 1977 NBA Draft, Grunfeld played in the NBA for nine seasons. Grunfeld played in New York for four seasons, retiring following the 1985-86 season. In 693 career NBA games, he averaged 7.4 points per game.

Following his playing career, Grunfeld served as the Knicks radio analyst for the MSG Network from 1986-1989. Prior to the 1989-90 season, he served as an assistant coach for the Knicks under Stu Jackson before his promotion to director of administration marked his front office debut.

Born in Romania, Grunfeld came to New York City in 1964 with his father, Alex and mother, Livia.

He enjoyed a stellar collegiate career at the University of Tennessee, where he left as the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,249 points. He teamed with Bernard King at Tennessee to form the "Bernie and Ernie Show" and later played with King in New York. Grunfeld was a member of the 1976 Olympic Team that won gold in Montreal.

LINCOLN HOLDINGS

Ted Leonsis

In the spring of 1999 Lincoln Holdings LLC purchased 100% of the Washington Capitals (held in the name of Lincoln Hockey LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lincoln Holdings) and, together with a subsequent purchase, approximately 44% of Washington Sports and Entertainment Limited Partnership (WSELP). WSELP owns 100% of the NBA Washington Wizards, the WNBA Washington Mystics, the MCI Center and the Baltimore-Washington Ticketmaster franchise. Lincoln Holdings plans to eventually own the majority interest in WSELP and all of its assets and has a right of first refusal on the sale of any of the individual teams or other assets, as well as an option to purchase Abe Pollin's majority interest in WSELP.

During the four years of Lincoln Holdings' existence, there have been several changes in the entity's ownership. The original owners were Ted Leonsis, who was and remains the majority owner with more than 50% of the ownership, Dick Patrick and John Ledecky, with Raul Fernandez and NBA legend Michael Jordan joining the group within the first six months. In the summer of 2001 Leonsis purchased Ledecky's interest, and during the next six months sold it to four new owners: Jack Davies, Rick Kay, Jeong Kim and Richard Fairbank. Lincoln Holdings also reacquired Michael Jordan's interest in order to allow him to return to the NBA as a player.

All of the current partners of Lincoln Holdings are extremely active in the Washington-area business community.

Jack Davies serves on the Board of Directors of several organizations, including Scholastic, the global children's publishing and media company, and Tickets.com, a leading live event ticketing solutions provider, and serves as a special advisor to General Atlantic Partners, one of the leading global private equity investment firms. He is also a board member of many organizations that help underprivileged young people in the Greater Washington, D.C., area.

Richard Fairbank is founder, chairman and chief executive officer of Capital One Financial Corporation, which he co-founded in 1988. Under Fairbank's leadership, the company has expanded internationally and ranked No. 260 in the Fortune 500 list of America's largest companies in 2002 after debuting on the list in 2000. Fairbank has previously worked as a partner at Strategic Planning Associates (now Mercer Management Consulting) and has also served as a consultant at Strategic Planning Associates, later joining Richmond-based Signet Bank and building what is now Capital One.

Raul Fernandez brings with him experience as a special advisor to General Atlantic Partners, a multi-billion-dollar private equity investment firm focused exclusively on information technology, process outsourcing and communications investment on a global basis. Fernandez is also credited with founding Proxicom Inc. in 1991 and turning it into a leading global provider of sophisticated e-Business solutions for Fortune 500 companies. Among his previous involvements, Fernandez also served as a legislative assistant to former Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., from 1984 to 1988.

Richard Kay is the chairman and CEO of OTG Software, a leading data storage and data access software company he founded with his own funds in 1992. In the Washington, D.C., area, OTG was recently named to Arthur Andersen's FastTrack Award, recognizing revenue growth, and was ranked as the 25th-fastest growing company in Maryland by Deloitte & Touche's "Fast 50."

Jeong H. Kim, Ph.D., currently serves as a professor in the Clark School of Engineering at the University of Maryland and as chairman of Cibernet Corporation. His background ranges from being a CEO of a high technology start-up to senior executive of a Fortune 50 corporation. Kim's early career encompassed computer design, satellite systems design and data communications and included seven years as a nuclear submarine officer in the U.S. Navy.

George Stamas is a senior partner of the international law firm of Kirkland & Ellis and is the former vice chairman of the Board of Deutsche Banc Alex. Brown Inc. He is also a founding director of two leading public companies based in the mid-Atlantic region – Aether Systems, a leading wireless solutions company, and FTI Consulting, a business services firm. A 1973 graduate of The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, Stamas graduated in 1976 from the University of Maryland Law School.

WIZARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

READ TO ACHIEVE

The NBA's year-round, league wide initiative, Read to Achieve, promotes the values of reading and online literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with children. The Wizards host various events and programs throughout the year in accordance with Read to Achieve, including a Back to School event; Pick & Roll Reading Program; Reading Time-Outs at local schools and libraries; When We Score, You Score; a Book Drive; an MLK Day event and/or contest; and HOOPSMARK Summer Reading Initiative. In the Fall of 2003, the Wizards will institute 18 new reading & computer corners into each D.C. Public High School.

BACK TO SCHOOL ESSAY CONTEST

The Wizards celebrate the start of school with a Back to School contest and event. Area middle and jr. high school students are encouraged to participate in an essay contest on the importance of staying in school. Winners are selected on the basis of creativity, uniqueness, and the impact the essay would make on their fellow students. Two winners from each area (VA, D.C., and MD) win a limousine ride to school with a Wizards player and a backpack full of school supplies.

PICK & ROLL

The Washington Wizards and Mystics team up with Sprite to encourage Baltimore-Washington area elementary school students to PICK a book and ROLL with it. PICK & ROLL is a reading incentive program geared towards fourth, fifth and sixth grade students. The Wizards challenge 35,000 children in over 350 schools to read eight books between November and January. Students who complete the requirements receive a Wizards prize. The school with the highest percentage of students completing the program receives a visit from a Wizards and/or Mystics player.

WHEN WE SCORE, YOU SCORE

This program recognizes that local schools and community organizations may need assistance obtaining the tools to foster reading and education. Therefore, for each point designated Wizards players score throughout a designated month, a book is donated to a designated school or community organization.

JR NBA & JR WNBA

The Jr. NBA & Jr. WNBA, presented by Gatorade and Nike, is a support program for already existing youth recreational basketball leagues. The program connects players, parents and coaches in an effort to heighten awareness and participation in youth basketball. More than 500,000 boys and girls from all 50 U.S. states, Canada and abroad, take part in youth basketball leagues affiliated with the Jr. NBA & Jr. WNBA. The goal is to provide kids with a great experience in the game of basketball. Each year, the Jr. NBA & Jr. WNBA, announces a National All-Star team and a Coach of the Year from each participating area. Eleven year old Kendall Marshall and Coach Donald Jones from Hylton Boys and Girls Club were winners this year.

WIZARDS TURKEY GIVEAWAY

The Wizards team up with Calvary Food Bank to host an annual turkey basket giveaway each November. Four hundred baskets are filled with turkeys and items to compliment a Thanksgiving Day meal, such as, canned vegetables, bread, stuffing and desserts. Baskets are handed out to D.C. area families in need.

WIZARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

FAMILY TO FAMILY

A December ritual, Washington Sports and Entertainment Abe Pollin and the Wizards players and coaches board a charter bus filled with toys, books, clothes, games and gift certificates and head to designated families in the District who need help with the holidays. The Wizards work with the Friendship House and Bread for the City to coordinate the 10 families receiving donations.

FOSTER CARE HOLIDAY PARTY

The Wizards host an annual Holiday Party each December for Washington, D.C. children in foster care. Children from around the District are treated to a carnival-like atmosphere complete with food, games and fun, including Wizards player's autographs, interactive games, photo button booth and more.

TOYS FOR TOTS

Each December, the Wizards team up with the U.S. Marine Corps to host a Toys for Tots drive at MCI Center on December 12, 2003. Fans who donate a new, unwrapped toy the night of the game receive a coupon to a future Wizards game. All toys are dispersed through the U.S. Marine Corp to underprivileged children in the Washington-Metropolitan area.

WARM COAT DRIVE

On January 2, 2003, the Wizards host a warm coat drive at a Wizards home game at MCI Center. Fans are encouraged to donate new or gently used coats. Each fan who donates an item receives a coupon for a future Wizards game. Coats are given to Washington-Metropolitan area shelters and groups homes through the Salvation Army.

POLLIN AWARD

The Wizards team up with D.C. Lottery to honor the District area's top volunteers with the Pollin Award. Local schools, community organizations and companies have the opportunity to nominate their top volunteers who show exceptional dedication to their community. Winners are chosen based on their volunteer activities and how they impact their community. Winners receive four lower level tickets to a designated Wizards game and are presented the Pollin Award at half-time of the game.

WIZARDS ONLINE AUCTION

WIZARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

KIDS 'N KOPS

The Wizards and the G.R.E.A.T. (Gangs Resistance Education and Training) program and MCI team up with D.C., Montgomery County, Fairfax County and Takoma Park Police to encourage positive relationships with youth and police officers and promote conflict resolution. Area police officers are provided with Wizards player cards containing an action shot and information about a Wizards player, along with a conflict resolution tip on the back of the card. Each time a child introduces himself or herself to an officer, the child will receive a player card. After collecting all six player cards and the mascot card, the child completes the back of the mascot card and returns that card to their local precinct. Each child who completes turns in a mascot card receives a Wizards prize!

OUR HOUSE, OUR RULES

The Wizards promote non-violence to area youth! Each season a new tagline is created and delivered to D.C. area elementary, middle, junior high and high schools, as well as, community organizations. Groups are asked to create a video PSA promoting the Wizards Our House, Our Rules tagline. Winners are chosen based on creativity, originality and the impact of their message/PSA. Each winner receives a block of tickets to a weekend Wizards home game and their PSA is posted on the Wizards website, as well as, presented during their designated Wizards game.

COURT RESURFACING

The Wizards and Mystics have provided 16 newly refurbished basketball court sites in the Washington-Metropolitan area since 1992. This program provides area youth a clean and safe place to play. With the help of NIKE and Coca-Cola, the Wizards and Mystics complete two sites a year, repaving and relining the courts and hosting a dedication ceremony and skills clinic at the site. The last two sites completed were Bald Eagle Recreation Center Basketball Courts and Fort Greble Basketball Courts both located in Southwest, D.C.

NBA COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The dedication of the NBA, its teams and players to the improvement of local communities has a long history and tremendous reach. The league's implementation and execution of outreach based programs has impacted and inspired children and families to develop a life-long love of reading. The entire NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives.

With the Read to Achieve program, the NBA helps to positively impact the reading tendencies of millions of kids on a year-round basis. NBA teams, current and former players and coaches partner with schools and community centers to deliver the Read to Achieve message and to provide critical resources and support to local reading and education programs.

To connect with so many people and communities, Read to Achieve partners with the nation's longest-serving literacy organization, Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) and with the world's largest children's book publisher, Scholastic Inc. Together, over 300,000 books are donated annually through school assemblies, book fairs and at various reading events. In addition, a partnership with Dell provides a necessary focus on technology literacy and has resulted in the creation of more than 60 NBA Reading & Learning Centers. Places where children have access to books, technology and supportive reading programs in an encouraging and motivating environment.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are also dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for hundreds of non-profit and youth serving organizations. To honor players' outstanding community service accomplishments off the court each month, the NBA recently enhanced its Community Assist Award by announcing that all future winners would receive the David Robinson Plaque. The new award was first presented to the San Antonio Spurs legendary center last season to honor him for the standards he has set in supporting the community. The NBA and WNBA also present an annual Sportsmanship Award to one player at the conclusion of their respective seasons.

In addition to youth education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities including but not limited to The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund, UNICEF, The National Wheelchair Basketball Association, The National Civil Rights Museum, Gallaudet University, and The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center.

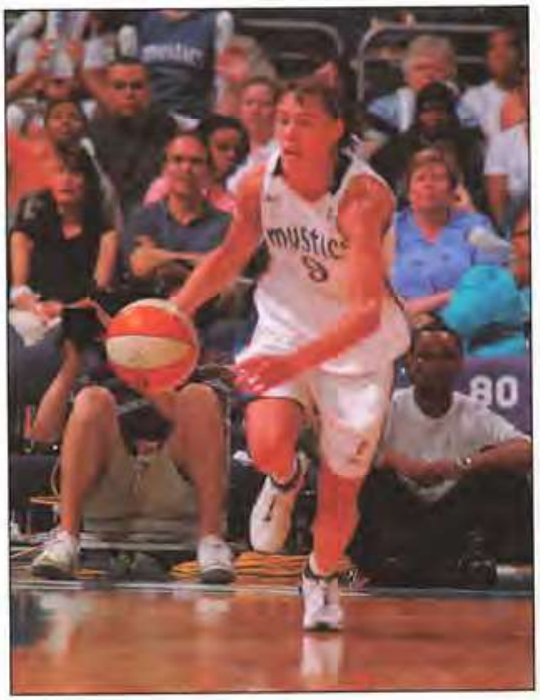
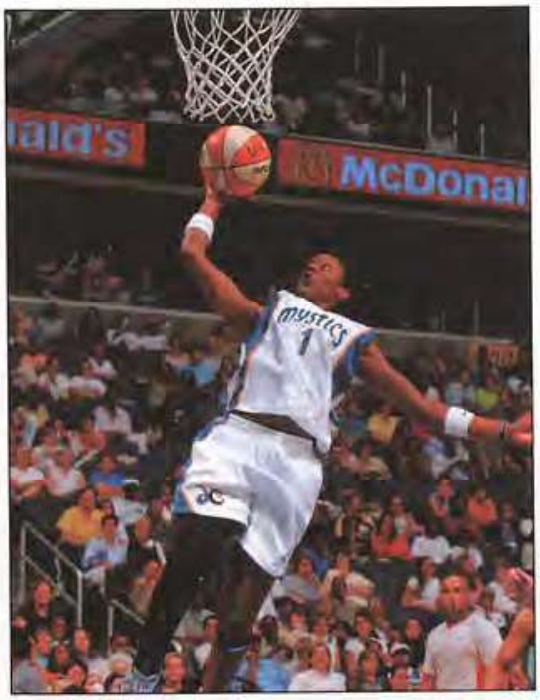
Dazzling fans with his high-flying dunks, G-Man is guaranteed to bring a smile to your face and send chills down your spine! During his free time, you can spot G-Wiz entertaining at birthday parties and other social events. G-Wiz also appears in many of the Community Relations events sponsored by the Washington Wizards. If you are interested in having G-Wiz perform at one of your functions, please call 202-661-5000.

WIZARDS DANCE TEAM

The Washington Wizards Dancers are a group of beautiful, personable and artistically talented young ladies. The team supports the Wizards at each home basketball game at MCI Center, featuring a wide variety of dance routines and choreography. The Wizards Dance Team participation is vital in helping to pump up the crowd and to show the true spirit of the Washington Wizards. Members of the Dance team spend their free time performing at charity fundraising events and galas, assisting in holiday activities and visiting with the D.C.metropolitan community.





Luckily, basketball fans in the Washington-Metropolitan area do not have to experience the off-season void that most sports enthusiasts must face. For sports fans, the off-season is the worst time of the year. It is those seemingly endless months in between a team's final game of the season and the very moment the players step onto the court, field, ice, etc. to begin preseason. The time spent away from the arenas, parks or fields that fans come to love can be an excruciating wait for many. It is a time of loss when some fans find themselves missing their daily dosages of stats, television highlights or newspaper articles.

For the past six years, fans of professional sports in Washington, D.C. have been treated to year-round basketball with the presence of the Washington Mystics, one of 13 teams in the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA).

The Mystics have attracted more than a million fans to its games since the Inaugural 1998 Season and it is no wonder why. Basketball fans are treated to a unique experience at Mystics games. First and foremost, Mystics games feature some of the most celebrated athletes in women's professional sports. During games, Mystics forward and Five-Time WNBA All-Star Chamique Holdsclaw leads her team against a league full of incredible basketball players. In the seven years that the WNBA has existed, the talent has grown and the teams' rosters feature more depth and competitiveness.

Of no less importance, is the atmosphere that Mystics games provide. Fans attending Mystics games are given a complete entertainment experience. Besides basketball, the excitement also includes halftime shows, timeout contests and special game-by-game promotions. The Mystics games are also affordable. Tickets are less than the price of a movie, starting at just $8 per ticket. All games are played at the state-of-the-art MCI Center located in the heart of Chinatown, just blocks from the revitalized section of downtown Washington. Fans wishing to purchase tickets to a Mystics game can do so by calling the Mystics sales office at (202) 661-5050.

The Mystics season begins in late spring and runs through the summer into early fall. It is the perfect opportunity for fans to enjoy summer fun with their family or friends and an even better way to avoid the "off-season blues" by area basketball fans. With a potential number one pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft and the return of Holdsclaw and her teammates, the Mystics and basketball fans around Washington have a lot to look forward to.

TEAM NOTES

FAREWELL TO A LEGEND: Michael Jordan's legendary career came to a close on April 16 in Philadelphia when the five-time NBA Most Valuable Player and six-time World Champion played in his final NBA game. Jordan leaves the game as the NBA's all-time leader in career scoring average (30.12 points per game). Jordan won at every level of basketball competition, winning an NCAA Championship at North Carolina in 1982, two Olympic Gold Medals in 1984 and 1992 and six NBA Championships (1991-1993 and 1996-1998). Jordan averaged an NBA record 33.4 points per game in the playoffs and scored an NBA playoff-high 63 points at Boston (4/20/86). Jordan also holds the NBA Finals record for highest points per game when he averaged 41.0 points per game in 1993 Finals. Jordan was named NBA Finals MVP six times and holds an NBA record 10 scoring titles. Named one of the 50 Greatest Players of All-Time in 1996, Jordan played in and started 13 NBA All-Star games and recorded the only triple-double in All Star game history in 1997. He was named Most Valuable Player of the All-Star game three times. Jordan recorded 28 career triple-doubles including a span in which he recorded 10 triple-doubles in 11 games from March 25 to April 14, 1989. Jordan also scored in double figures for an NBA record 866 consecutive games. In two seasons in Washington, Jordan scored 3,015 points in 142 games with Washington for an average of 21.2 points per game. He also averaged 5.9 rebounds and 4.4 assists in his two seasons with Washington.

THE ALL-TIME LEADER: With his 18th point in Miami on April 11, Michael Jordan assured that he would finish his legendary career as the NBA's all-time points per game leader with 30.1 points per game. Jordan had been maintaining a lead over Wilt Chamberlain, who finished his legendary career with a career scoring average 30.07 points per game. Jordan finished his career with a 30.12 points per game average.

MIRROR IMAGE: Washington finished the 2002-2003 season with a 37-45 record, the same record the Wizards posted a year ago. Washington struggled again in the second half of the season posting a 13-20 record following the All-Star break. Last season the team was 11-24 after the break and was without Michael Jordan for 21 of the final 35 games. The Wizards were one win better at home (23-18) than last year (22-19) and one win worse on the road (14-27) than last year (15-26).

THE CENTURY MARK: Washington finished the 2002-2003 season with a 20-3 record when scoring or 100 or more points. The Wizards registered only 17 wins when they did not top the century mark.

TOUGH TICKET: The Wizards recorded their 82nd consecutive sellout at MCI Center on April 14 and led the NBA in attendance for the second consecutive season. Washington totaled 1,618,853 fans this season, averaging 20,173 at home and an NBA-high 19,311 on the road. The Wizards sold out all 41 home games this season as well as 37 of their 41 road games. The American Airlines Arena in Miami recorded the largest crowd in that building's history on April 11. The Pepsi Center hosted the largest crowd in its history on March 30. New Orleans Arena recorded their largest attendance in the arena's history on February 19. The 20,578 to attend the Wizards and Clippers game on February 12 was the largest crowd to ever attend an NBA game in Southern California. The only four games not to sellout were played at Minnesota (11/5), at Detroit (12/4), at New Jersey (12/13) and at Atlanta (12/17).

WIZARDS TURN BACK THE CLOCK: Washington honored the 25th Anniversary of their first NBA Title on April 9. Led by head coach Dick Motta and NBA legends Wes Unseld, Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge, the 1977-1978 Bullets defeated the Seattle SuperSonics in a seven-game series to win the team's first NBA Championship.

JORDAN POSTS HIS 200th DOUBLE-DOUBLE: Michael Jordan scored 26 points and had 10 rebounds to post his third consecutive and 200th career double-double on April 8 at Cleveland.

TEAM NOTES

THE M STACK BOOGIE: Washington was 4-0 when Michael Jordan, Jerry Stackhouse and Larry Hughes each scored 20 or more points. Jordan, Stackhouse and Hughes all scored 20 or more points in Washington's victories versus Orlando on March 11, Indiana on January 4, New York on December 7 and at Atlanta on December 17.

JORDAN NAMED PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Michael Jordan was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the week ending March 2 following a 3-1 week in which he averaged 24.5 points and 8.3 rebounds per game. Jordan, who was also named Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the week ending January 5, has now been named NBA Player of the Week 25 times in his career. Jordan's award-winning week was highlighted by his performance versus Houston on February 27 when he scored 35 points and had 11 rebounds and six assists in a game-high 52 minutes despite being questionable prior to tip-off with a right thigh contusion. This is the third Eastern Conference Player of the Week awarded to a Wizard this season. In addition to Jordan's two awards, Jerry Stackhouse was named Player of the Week for the week ending November 9.

PROTECTING THE ROCK: Washington committed an NBA season-low three turnovers in their 83-78 victory at Indiana on February 25. Sacramento also had just three turnovers at San Antonio on December 8. The Wizards have done a good job this year of protecting the ball, ranking fourth in the NBA in fewest turnovers behind Dallas, Seattle and Milwaukee.

MJ PASSES CHAMBERLAIN: Michael Jordan scored his 31,420th career point on a fade away jumper with 1:03 to play in the second quarter on January 22 at New Orleans to pass Wilt Chamberlain for third on the NBA's all-time scoring list.

A NEW RECORD: Washington held Miami to just 65 points on November 16, the lowest output by an opponent in franchise history. This is the second game this season that Washington has held an opponent under 70 points, a feat that now has been accomplished five times in franchise history. The previous low for points scored against Washington was 66 by the Chicago Bulls at the United Center on January 5, 2000.

STACKHOUSE NAMED PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Jerry Stackhouse was named NBA Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the week ending November 10. Stackhouse averaged 29.0 points and 5.8 rebounds for the week. His highlights for the week included the game-winning dunk in Washington's 100-99 victory over the Lakers on Friday and scoring a season-high 35 points in Washington's 107-100 win over Cleveland.

WIZARDS RETIRED NUMBERS

41 WES UNSELD

As a player, Wes Unseld seemed to have been chiseled from a block of granite, with a stoic demeanor and an iron resolve to win. A 6-7 bull of a center, he forged his reputation on relentless rebounding, bone-jarring picks, and laser-beam outlet passes. He did all the unspectacular things that led to glamorous victories. He was the league's MVP and Rookie of the Year in 1968-69 and a five-time NBA All-Star who captained the Baltimore and Washington Bullets to four NBA Finals appearances in the 1970s and to a championship in 1977-78. Unseld was intelligent on and off the court, and over the course of his career he came to personify the virtues of hard work, dedication, and courage. After retiring in 1980 he moved into a front office position with the Bullets, then coached the team for seven seasons in the late 1980s and early 1990s before becoming the team's General Manager before taking a leave of absence in May 2003. During his 13-year NBA career, all with the Bullets, Unseld piled up many accomplishments. He ranked seventh on the league's all-time rebounding list and was one of a handful of players to have tallied at least 10,000 points and 10,000 rebounds for a career. He played 984 games for the Bullets, the most of any player in franchise history. His total of 13,769 boards (14.0 rpg) currently tops the franchise career list, and his 3,822 assists also is a Bullets record. After a standout career at Louisville, Unseld was the second overall selection in the 1968 NBA Draft by the Bullets following the selection of future teammate Elvin Hayes by the Rockets. The Bullets had never had a winning season up to that point of Unseld's arrival. With Unseld the team ran off 10 winning campaigns and made 12 consecutive playoff appearances. Unseld played each of his 13 seasons with the Bullets and was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1988. In 1996, he was named to the NBA 50th Anniversary All-Time Team.

11 ELVIN HAYES

One of the most talented power forwards ever to play the game, Elvin Hayes used his trademark turnaround jumper and aggressive defense to win a secure place in the NBA record books. Fifth on the all-time list in games (1,303) and third in minutes played (50,000), he missed only nine contests in his 16 years in the league, a tribute to his durability and conditioning. An All-Star for each of his first 12 seasons, he scored more points (27,313) than any other player in NBA history except for Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Karl Malone, Michael Jordan, Wilt Chamberlain and Moses Malone. He also ranks fourth on the league's all-time rebounding list with 16,279 boards. Hayes is the franchise leader in points scored with 15,551 and averaged 21.3 points and 12.7 rebounds in his nine seasons with the Bullets that included a world championship in 1978. Hayes attended the University of Houston where he had a standout career highlighted by outscoring Lew Alcindor 39-15 in leading Houston to snap UCLA's 47-game winning streak. Hayes was the first overall pick by the San Diego Rockets in the 1968 NBA Draft. Following four seasons with the Rockets, Hayes was acquired by the Baltimore Bullets in exchange for Jack Marin and future considerations on April 12, 1972. With the Bullets, Hayes moved to the power forward position and teamed with Wes Unseld to form one of the most formidable frontcourts in NBA history. Hayes led Washington to a franchise record 60 wins during the 1974-75 season while being named First Team All-NBA. During Washington's championship run in 1978, Hayes averaged a team-high 21.2 points per game. After a standout career in Washington, Hayes finished his 16-year career with the Houston Rockets. Hayes was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990 and his #11 jersey is one of only three numbers retired by the Washington Wizards.

25 GUS JOHNSON

Gus Johnson, one of only three players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, was one of 21 finalists named by the North American Screening Committee for election into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2003. Johnson, a native of Akron, Ohio was a devastating force at the power forward position. Johnson's ability to score, pass, and rebound made the Baltimore Bullets a perennial title contender from the mid 1960s to the early 1970's. Johnson, who entered the league following one year at the University of Idaho in 1963, spent nine of his 11 pro seasons with the Bullets. Nicknamed "Honeycomb" for his sweet play, Johnson was a four-time All-NBA Second Team selection (1965, '66, '70, '71), a two-time All-Defensive First Team selection (1970, '71), and was a member of the 1964 NBA All-Rookie team. With Johnson on the roster, the Bullets reached the playoffs six times and advanced to the NBA finals in 1970-71 (4-0 loss to Milwaukee). Statistically, Johnson averaged a double-double (17.1 ppg and 12.7 rpg) in 581 career NBA games. The Washington Bullets retired his jersey number 25 in 1986. On April 29, 1987, Johnson passed away after being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor.

1977-78 CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

Led by Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes the Washington Bullets captured the franchise's only world championship during the 1977-78 season under new head coach Dick Motta. The Bullets had established themselves as one of the most formidable teams in the 1970's and made two NBA Finals appearances only to lose to Milwaukee in 1971 and to Golden State in 1975, after a season in which the team posted a franchise record 60 victories. Washington finished the 1977-78 season with a 44-38 record and defeated Atlanta and San Antonio in the Eastern Conference Playoffs before upsetting Philadelphia 4-2 for a spot in the NBA Finals versus the Seattle SuperSonics. Seattle erased a 19-point lead at home in Game 1 and took a 1-0 series lead with a 106-102 victory. The series then shifted to the Capital Centre for Game 2 where Bobby Dandridge scored 34 points and Hayes added 25 points as Washington even the series with a 106-98 win. Seattle held off a late Washington rally for a 93-92 win at the Capital Centre in Game 3 as the series shifted to the Kingdome for Game 4. In need of a win, Washington trailed by 15 points late in third quarter but rallied behind Dandridge and Unseld to force overtime where Charles Johnson nailed three field goals as Washington evened the series with a 120-116 overtime win. The series then shifted to the Seattle Coliseum for Game 5, and in their home arena, the Sonics posted a 98-94 win to take a 3-2 series lead. Facing elimination, Washington exploded for 70 points in the second half of Game 6 and increased a 12-point first half lead into a 117-82 victory. The series then returned to Seattle for the seventh and deciding game where Washington played strong defense in forcing the Sonics backcourt of Gus Williams and Dennis Johnson into 4-26 shooting in building an 11-point fourth quarter lead. Seattle fought back in the closing minutes and cut the lead to four with a minute and a half to play. Mitch Kupchak then converted a big three point play but Seattle rallied to cut the lead to 101-99 on a Paul Silas tip-in. Seattle then fouled Unseld, who hit both of his free throws as Washington held on for a 105-99 victory and the franchise's first world championship. The title was the first for the City of Washington, D.C. since the Redskins won the NFL title in 1942. During the playoff run and finals, Motta reminded the media and fans that each series wasn't over until "the fat lady sings," a phrase that is widely associated with 1978 NBA Champion Washington Bullets.
